Company overview, strategy and operations

About Iyana Minerals

Iyana Minerals is an independent African mining and resources group focused on the responsible development of strategic commodities across Southern Africa. Our portfolio spans iron ore, manganese and chrome, underpinned by long-life reserves and integrated logistics.

Our Purpose

To unlock the value of Africa's mineral endowment through disciplined operations, strong partnerships and shared prosperity with host communities.

Operating Model

We operate an owner-operator model with direct control over mining, processing and beneficiation, complemented by long-term rail and port capacity agreements. This vertical integration protects margins across the commodity cycle.

Growth Strategy

Near-term: ramp up existing operations to nameplate capacity. Medium-term: commission the Kalahari Manganese expansion and Bushveld Chrome Phase 2. Long-term: build a diversified strategic-minerals platform aligned with the global energy transition.

Governance

The Board is chaired by an independent non-executive director and comprises a majority of independent members. Standing committees cover Audit & Risk, Remuneration, Nominations, and Social, Ethics & Sustainability.
